STORY IDEAS

Go where the love is. We are all born in light, and worthy of love. Seek loving mentors—they are waiting to be found.

Recognize dysfunctional systems. Learn to gaze with unblinking eyes on the personal and cultural ideas that serve as our incubators.

Know thyself. We must learn to look inside, to explore and accept our own deepest needs and beliefs.

Never stay for the money. The longer we stay where we do not belong because of financial insecurity, the harder it is on our bodies and souls.

Clarify intentions. We can't expect others to support our dreams if we haven't voiced them to ourselves.

Balance masculine and feminine energies. All of us need to honor and embody both male and female energy to stay in balance, to use all of what we are.

Practice willingness (stay teachable). Only when we are open to learning and growing does Spirit have room to do the work!
